3. Division of property.
4. Educational level of each party at the time of marriage and at the time the action is commenced.
5. Earning capacity of the party seeking maintenance.
6. Feasibility that the party seeking maintenance can become self-supporting at a standard of living reasonably comparable to that enjoyed during the marriage.
7. Tax consequences to each party.
8. Any mutual agreement made by the parties before or during the marriage.
9. The contribution by one party to the education, training or increased earning power of the other.
10. Such other factors as the court may in each individual case determine to be relevant.

CHILDREN/DEPENDENCY EXEMPTIONS

Custodial parent is entitled to the dependency exemption. Parents, together or separately, must provide at least one-half of the child's support. Two exceptions to the general rule that the custodial parent is entitled to the dependency exemption.

1. A multiple support agreement is in place — §152(d)(3)
2. The custodial parent relinquishes the rights to the exemption (either annually or permanently IRS Form 8332) — §152(e)(2)(A).
