

Eric Winkler, JD, CPA

Senior Manager

Eric is a Senior Manager at SVA Certified Public Accountants, providing tax planning, consulting, and compliance services to businesses and individuals.

With experience in pass-through entity taxation, individual taxation, and tax controversy, he helps clients navigate complex tax matters and understand how changing tax laws and regulations may impact their financial and business decisions.

Eric works closely with clients to develop tax strategies tailored to their unique circumstances, identify planning opportunities, and address compliance needs. He also assists clients with tax controversy matters, helping them understand and respond to issues that may arise with taxing authorities. His broad tax background allows him to serve clients across a variety of industries and situations, with particular experience working with real estate and construction businesses.

As both an attorney and a Certified Public Accountant, Eric brings a well-rounded perspective to complex tax matters. He combines his knowledge of accounting and tax law with a practical, solutions-focused approach to help clients evaluate their options, manage tax obligations, and make informed decisions with confidence.

Eric is a member of the Wisconsin Institute of Certified Public Accountants (WICPA) and the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA).
